

We asked our participants the following questions at the beginning of a workshop or trip and again at the end. You could use this with your class at the beginning and end of your project to see how much they feel they've learnt about heritage and each other.

We used green card to represent 'lots, yes and often'.

Orange card to represent 'a bit, maybe, once or twice'.

Red card to represent 'nothing, never and no'.

Students held the card in front of their faces to anonymise their response – everyone enjoyed the photographs!

1. How much do you know about heritage in Newham?
[lots/a bit/nothing]
2. Have you ever been to a museum (or archive) in east London?
[lots of times/once or twice/never]
3. Do you know where (local) museums (and archives) are?
[yes/maybe/no]
4. Would you (feel able to) visit a (local) museum (by yourself)?
[yes/maybe/no]
5. Have you ever told anyone about your own heritage?
[often/once or twice/never]
6. Have you learned about other people's heritage since coming to Newham?
[yes lots/a bit/no]

If green or orange for 6. go on to 7..

7. Have you found things that are shared/similar between your heritage and others?
[yes lots/a bit/no]
